Call Antioch Boys For Army Service; Induct 98 in County

List of Draftees Announced by North Chicago Board

Ninety-eight men, including many from northern and western Lake county were ordered up for immediate induction into the armed forces, it was announced Tuesday by the County Draft Board No. 3 at North Chicago.

Among the men from Antioch called were John and Raymond Horan, sons of John L. Horan, town collector of taxes for Antioch Township. Horan is a veteran of the last war and has long been active in the American Legion affairs. For many years he has been a member of the Antioch Post.

Meat Scarcity Demands Careful Handling of Stock

(By Harland French)

Twelve million dollars is lost annually in the United States from improper handling of livestock while being shipped to market. This loss results from finding dead animals in cars and trucks upon arrival at stock yards and from bruised animals whose carcasses must be sold at lower prices after the affected parts are removed.

The Livestock Loss Prevention board reports that 16,000 cattle, 13,000 calves; 75,000 hogs, and 38,000 sheep arrive dead at the nation's stock yards each year.

Two million cattle; 316,000 calves; 6,000 hogs, and 1,000,000 sheep arrive in a bruised condition.

Railway cars loaded with mixed livestock often have heavy losses. Hogs and small animals are often found dead when shipped with larger animals. Separations should be durable so the smaller animals can be kept separated from the larger.

If animals are hauled in trucks, quick starts and stops as well as last turns should be avoided. The truck body uprights should be on the outside and the inside should be as smooth as possible to prevent bruising of the animals.

Avoid jamming of the cattle when being driven through gates, chutes and car doors. Allow the livestock to walk and never get them excited when they are being driven.

Railway cars and trucks should have sanded floors to prevent slipping. If an animal once gets down in a crowded car or truck it may not be able to get up and may become trampled to death or severely bruised.

During cold weather the sand should have a layer of straw over it. Tar paper lining the car and truck may also prevent excessive drafts and prevent shipping fever among animals.

In the summer, many animals, especially hogs, are overcome by heat. Wetting the sand, using ice, or sprinkling the animals slightly with water may prevent tremendous losses.

Sheep frequently arrive in an injured condition, mainly because they have been lifted by their fleeces. They will easily follow a leader, so if one sheep is carefully started down a chute the others will follow of their own free will. Stock yard men often use trained or "Judas" goats to lead sheep from pens through alleys to their pens.

Many cattle are injured by horns, and for that reason most cattlemen now practice dehorning.

Truckers, farmers, and stock yard handlers often mistreat livestock when they lose their temper. They use canes, sticks and whips and too often kick animals when trying to drive them through a strange place. Severe bruising may result, especially in fat hogs and sheep. Large parts of the injured carcass must be removed after slaughter.

If care is taken in loading, hauling and unloading livestock, the number of dead and injured animals should be greatly reduced.

Now when meat is so necessary for our fighting men and allies, everyone handling livestock should be extra patient and careful so that as little as possible a loss will result.

TIRE INSPECTION DEADLINE FEB. 28

Sunday, February 28, is the deadline for inspection of tires on automobiles operated on B and C gasoline ration, the Illinois Office of Price Administration reminded all motorists this week. Holders of A cards have until March 31 for their initial inspection.

Frank Schmidt, Well Known Salem Resident, Dead

Following a brief illness, Frank Schmidt, 72, a well known farmer and church worker of Salem, passed away Sunday night in a Milwaukee hospital. Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schmidt, he was born in Burlington, Wis., Nov. 28, 1870. His parents were pioneers of Mound Center area, and Frank also was one of the early farmers of the county. Later he operated an implement store in Salem.

On June 25, 1891, he was married to Miss Emma Sauer at Slades Corners. The couple were the parents of 11 children, two sons dying in infancy and a daughter passed away a few years ago.

He is survived by his widow, five sons and three daughters: Mrs. Lena Kaddatz, Kenosha; Mrs. Lulu Rowold, and Mrs. Lucy Mikow of Milwaukee; Mrs. Erna Thierfelder, Sheboygan; Mrs. Wilma Frautschy of Salem; Walter of Geneva City; Arnold of Pleasant Prairie, and Alfred of Salem. There are 24 grandchildren. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Hulda Herman of Racine, and a brother, Charles, Wichita, Kansas.

Announce New Ration Boards

Locations and personnel of Lake county's five new rationing boards were announced last week by Michael F. Mulcahy, OPA director for the Chicago Metropolitan area which includes all of this county. The new boards will function in fourteen townships of the county which previously were under state administration.

The new boards and the areas which they control are as follows:

Board 41-1: Libertyville, 707 Milwaukee ave., for Libertyville, Fremont and Vernon townships.

Board 41-2: Tower Lake, for Wauconda, Elia and Cuba townships.

Board 41-3: Lake Villa (Village Hall), for Lake Villa, Antioch and Grant townships. The chairman for this board is Raymond A. Thompson.

Members: Herman Cubbon and James C. Flood. Clerk, Dorothy Jansky.

Board 41-4: Gurnee, for Avon, Newport and Warren townships.

Board 41-5: Zion, for Zion and Benton townships.

Mrs. D. N. Deering and sons David and Billie, returned home Sunday after spending several days with relatives at Piercetown, Ind.

Scott Appointed Chairman of Red Cross War Drive

The Waukegan, North Chicago, North Lake County chapter of the American Red Cross today named Walter I. Scott as chairman of the war fund drive which is to get under way on March 1. The drive for war relief funds will continue through the month of March.

Scott, Antioch dairyman, member of the Red Cross Rescue squad, and Antioch village trustee, has long been active in civic affairs, however, this will be his first venture as chairman of a committee to raise funds for the Red Cross. Last year's local chairman was Mayor George B. Bartlett. Chairman Scott was instructed by the Red Cross Chapter to select his own committee of assistants. He has made request that all local citizens who wish to aid in this worthy cause report to him for assignment of duty.

Attention of readers is directed to the Red Cross rotogravure section contained in this edition of the News.

Lake Villa Lions Join Antioch Club

Complete Plans for Dance in Danish Hall Here March 6

Five members of the Lake Villa Lions club were accepted as members of the Antioch Club at the semi-monthly meeting of the local group Monday night at St. Ignatius hall. The Lake Villa club abandoned its charter some months ago and leading members there decided to seek membership with the more active and larger club at Antioch.

The following whose names were presented at the meeting by Rev. W. McArthur were accepted as members: Charles Anderson, O. W. Lehmann, Wm. M. Marks, Elmer D. Bray, and Rev. MacArthur.

Plans for the Lions Club dance to be held March 6 at Danish hall have been completed. Dr. William Gay, chairman of the committee, reported. Serving with Chairman Gay are W. E. Brook, Arthur Trieger, Dr. W. A. Biron, and J. B. Field.

A six-piece orchestra of local musicians will furnish the music for the dancing. There will be an admission fee of 25 cents, and the advance sale of tickets indicates a large attendance. There will be refreshments and prizes, the committee stated.

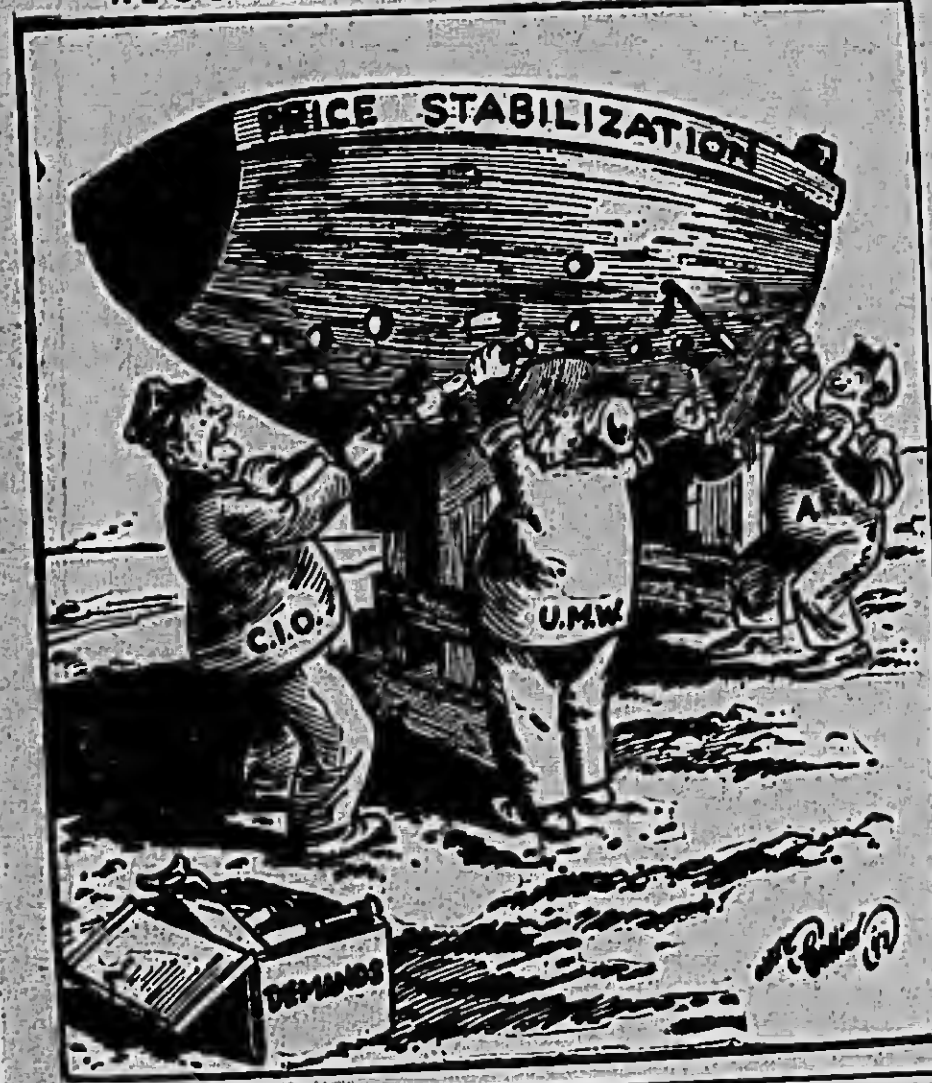

Announce Evening Hours for Red Cross Surgical Dressing Unit

Additional hours for workers in the Antioch Red Cross Surgical Dressing unit were announced today by Mrs. Edmund F. Vos, chairman of the local group. The extra hours are from 7 to 9 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Due to the urgency of work more workers are needed, the committee says, and every hour of work is appreciated.

Hours are: Tuesday—9 to 4 and 7 to 9; Thursday—12 to 4 and 7 to 9.

Donald is a brother of Myrus and George Nelson of Antioch.

SEQUOITS TROUCE NORTHBROOK TO STAY IN DISTRICT TOURNEY

Meets Unbeaten St. Mary's Tonight in Semi-finals

Antioch Sequoits' brilliant victory last night over Northbrook, 27 to 19, in the preliminary of the 1943 district High School basketball tournament being played at Wauconda, brought the locals into the semi-finals to be played tonight.

While the Sequoits were drubbing the Northbrook five, Palatine lost to Wauconda, 22 to 21, and Barrington won over Elia in an overtime game. Thus, remaining in the tournament are the undefeated St. Mary's team of Des Plaines which drew a bye in the preliminaries and will be Antioch's opponent tonight at 7:30, Wauconda and Barrington, to play at 8:30 tonight. The final game to determine the district championship will be played Friday night at 8:00 o'clock.

If the Sequoits "get by" St. Mary's tonight, the locals have a good chance of winning the tourney, according to Coach Wolfenbarger. However, the undefeated quintet from Des Plaines is a tough assignment for any high school basketball team, but not having yet appeared in the present series its tourney strength is unknown. Should the Sequoits win tonight's game they will appear in the final with the winner of the Wauconda-Barrington fracas.

Fine Record for Season

Win or lose in the district tournament, it can't be denied that the Sequoits had a most successful season, with 14 victories and only five losses out of the 19 games played. Eight of the games were conference games. Two games were lost to Hebron, two to Palatine, and one to Waukegan.

1275 Register In Antioch For "Scant" Rations

Local Registrars Face Shortages of Declaration Blanks

Registration for war ration book No. 2 had reached a total of 1275 at the close of the second day, the board of registrars for Antioch reported last night. The first day listings on Tuesday, from A to D totaled 583, and Wednesday's registrations, E to H, listed 692.

The local registrars today revealed that they faced a possible shortage of the declaration forms, as slightly less than half of those registering had failed to avail themselves of the consumer declaration forms which they could have clipped from newspapers and filled out at home. More of the blanks have been ordered and are expected to be on hand this afternoon and evening. Those whose names begin with I to M will register today, 2 to 9 p. m., with N to S names registering Friday during the same hours, and Saturday, letters T to Z, from 1:30 to 5:00 p. m.

American householders are to be allowed less than half of the canned fruits and vegetables they have been in the habit of eating under the new "scant ration" program which starts next Monday. The new rationing allows about three cans per person per month.

All sales of canned goods which were frozen for the period of registration, will be resumed next week when consumers will take a new kind of ration book to the store.

Get 48 Points in March

Everyone has 48 points to "spend" in March, and families may pool their points. It will take, for example, 14 points to buy a standard size can of corn or green beans, 16 for peas or tomatoes, 21 for peaches or pears, 10 for grapefruit, 23 for grapefruit juice, 32 for large cans of tomato or pineapple juice, 6 for soup, 1 for baby food, about 13 points a pound for frozen fruits or vegetables.

Administrator Prentiss Brown, one of the New Deal's "lame ducks," who was repudiated in his bid for re-election as senator by Michigan state voters last November, and recently taken under the Roosevelt administration's wing and made price administrator, acknowledged that the new food program is a "scant ration," but said program will get along on it "so that our fighting forces and the fighting forces of our allies may have the food they need to carry on."

LIFT RATION BAN ON TIRE RECAPPING

Passenger and light truck tires may be recapped with reclaimed rubber without a rationing certificate, according to action approved by Rubber Director William M. Jeffers.

The action is designed to reduce the demand for replacement tires, as recapping requires only about half as much reclaimed rubber as a new "war tire." Recapping of large commercial vehicle tires still is governed by rationing restrictions.

Cut Sugar Quotas for Next Rationing Period

A reduction in sugar rationing has been announced by OPA. Rationing for the 11-week period beginning March 16 will entitle each person to five pounds, or slightly under the basic ration of one-half pound per person per week.

Stamp No. 11, good for three pounds, becomes invalid after March 15. The five pound ration for stamp No. 12 will save manpower and require less handling, OPA said. The five pounds on stamp No. 12 must last for 11 weeks.

Internal Revenue Office Moves to Washington St.

The Division Office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, formerly located in the Waukegan Post Office building, has been moved to 214 Washington st., Waukegan, Walter Johnson, deputy collector, announced this week. Hours are from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Monday through Saturday.

Betty Grimes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Grimes of Cedar Crest, has joined the WAACS. She will leave March 4 for Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., where she will receive her basic training. Miss Grimes was formerly secretary at the Antioch Township High school.

Cutting Bait

The phrase, "social security for everyone," is the new political bait being prepared to lure the voter. It is a fine sounding catch phrase.

There is something even greater than full-stomach social security, however. There is individual freedom—the right to do things for oneself.

Political social security that makes one a virtual ward of the state in return for a full stomach and a place to sleep, destroys freedom.

Government can only "give" to the people what it first takes away from them. It can tax or confiscate savings and redistribute them under the guise of equalization of wealth.

But a nation will starve if a majority of the people do not have the individual ambition and incentive to work, and save, and produce new wealth continuously to take care of themselves and that small percentage of unfortunate individuals who will always be wards of the state, and who should be cared for much better than they now are.

Political planning of the lives of all the people in a nation can be carried too far, just as can parental planning of the lives of children—we face that danger in our country. The planners and spenders are beginning to outnumber the workers and the savers.

Tragic Comedy

If the people of this country really wanted to control inflation, they could do so.

The country is faced with rising prices. Why? Read the headlines in the newspapers of a single day. A million and a quarter railway workers demand further wage increases. Hundreds of thousands of coal miners demand additional wage increases. One faction of shipyard workers announce they will withdraw their "no strike for the duration" agreement if a National Labor Relations Board decision favors another labor faction. And then, labor leaders call on the President to reduce the cost of living.

They all blame the farmer who is short of machinery, short of farm labor, unable to pay war wages, but charged for everything he buys on a war-wage scale.

Can the result be other than higher prices instead of lower? The situation would be comical if it were not tragic.

Unless we, as individuals and collective groups within the nation, show less greed and more love for our country, it is a total waste of time to talk about controlling inflation—no power on earth can stop it, until the explosion comes.

Horse Laugh Out of Order

Euphonious titles for tax measures will not make it any easier for the taxpayer to pay the tax bills he owes. The only permanent relief he can ever expect will come from the elimination of political waste in government and from drastic pruning of the bureaucratic fungus that threatens to smother earnings and savings.

In the meantime, the taxpayer can be helped by a new tax bill that will allow the easiest possible installment tax payments from current income for current taxes. Treasury officials should not give the horse laugh to ideas to aid the taxpayer. The bureaucrats don't pay the taxes. They should hump themselves to keep the taxpayer alive.

Postwar Wonders

According to Arthur W. Hixson, professor of chemical engineering at Columbia University, the average post-war American family may own a small helicopter, which while taking up no more room than present day cars, will be able to hover and rise or land vertically in the back yard or on the tops of tall buildings.

No less amazing is the prediction that houses and furniture may be so light that they can be moved to new sites by giant helicopters. You could take your home to the country with you in the summer and bring it back in the fall. The future can hold a rosy picture for the common man. He knows that when improvements come he will benefit from them because industry's mass production genius will place new things within his economic reach.

His Home on Fire, Dog Wakes Sleeping Youth

HARRISBURG, PA.—A three-month-old fox terrier saved the life of his 16-year-old master. The youth, Robert L. Atticks, was asleep and awakened when his dog began to bark furiously. The two escaped from a second-floor bedroom, which was filled with smoke, by sliding down a back-porch pillar.

Takes Mate's Job As He Joins Army

Woman Keeps Little Factory Going as Hubby Serves.

DES MOINES, IOWA.—While Second Lieut. Howard O. Smith teaches new army recruits how to use their rifles, his attractive young wife has stepped into line and is doing her part to take over the family business and at the same time promote civilian defense.

In the Smith home Mrs. Smith puts in long hours keeping their little factory in full production, turning out top-notch shooting coats used by civilian rifle training clubs in perfecting their marksmanship.

The Smiths' little factory is a unique institution which grew out of his hobby of rifle shooting. For years he sought the perfect shooting coat—one which was comfortable, which took up the terrific shock of a high-powered army rifle and still gave him plenty of ease while shooting.

In desperation he remodeled a pair of old coveralls, padding the shoulder with sheepskin. Gradually he worked out a jacket which seemed not bad at all, with shoulder and elbow padding in the proper places.

When his rifle club companions saw the coat, orders came pouring in—so fast that Rifleman Smith ceased himself out of the furrier's trade and opened a factory in the basement of his home, devoting himself to the business.

Then came the war, just as business was hitting the peak. Into the army with a commission went Howard Smith, to teach new recruits at Camp Crowder in Missouri how to use their rifles.

Here's where his wife comes in. She is doing the bookwork, supervising the six employees as they turn out coats at top speed, and keeping house on the side.

Young Fortune Tellers Solve War Fund Problem

LONDON, ONT.—They couldn't make lemonade and sell it—not enough sugar on a 10-year-old girl's ration card to make it sweet. Couldn't make iced tea or coffee—not even a grain of either on a little girl's ration card. Couldn't sell candy because mother didn't have enough sugar for that.

So what to do to make money for the queen's Canadian fund so that English girls and boys might have some of the lovely things Canadian children still could have to eat?

That was the problem facing three 10-year-old girls, Marjorie Beattie, Donaldia Macpherson and Beverly Parker until they put on their thinking caps.

"I have a fortune-telling board and can tell fortunes," said Marjorie. And so the problem was solved. The three girls launched the new, ration-year way to make money for the queen's fund. They dressed in colorful costumes, a-glitter with jewelry, and went from door to door in their neighborhood telling the future of young and old.

The dimes changed to dollars and within a few days the three girls had raised $7, after long hours of selling fortunes.

Given Six Years for Posing as Army Officer

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—An hour after he pleaded innocent and announced his intention of defending himself in court, James Russell Davis changed his plea to guilty and was sentenced to prison for six years and three months on charges of impersonating a United States army officer and of escaping from federal custody.

Coming to Chattanooga in mid-July, Davis posed as a major in the air forces with an overseas record. He moved in high ranking social and business circles for two weeks until his release to newspapers of a grandiose story of plans to take over the local air field for training purposes led to his downfall.

The FBI said he had a long criminal record which included previous charges of impersonating army officers. He told officials he was from Champaign, Ill.

U. S. Doctor Gives Life To Aid British Wounded

CAIRO.—Capt. Edward R. Stone of Washington, D. C., an American doctor serving as a volunteer with Britain's desert forces, was disclosed to have given his own life trying to save those of the badly wounded on the open front.

Dr. Stone was in a front line slit trench, taking cover, when he heard a shout that an injured man was lying about 200 yards away.

With two British soldiers, he set out to help despite a hail of machine-gun, mortar and artillery fire. They had gone only a few yards when a shell-burst killed all three.

JESUS RESTORES LAZARUS TO LIFE

LESSON TEXT—John 11:32-35, 38-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the resurrection, and the life."—John 11:25.

Suffering, sorrow and bereavement are so common in our day that this lesson is peculiarly appropriate. Life, even to the Christian, finds its full measure of things which hurt and grieve. Many ask: "Why must I, a follower of Christ, bear such burdens?"

The answer is, that while the believer is not "of the world," he is "in the world," and here he must meet the problems of life, including the evils to which the flesh is heir because of sin. The fact that Jesus is our Friend and our Saviour does not exempt us from human sorrow, but it does assure us of the needed grace to bear the trial and makes us ready to trust Him even in life's darkest hour.

Lazarus, the friend of Jesus, was sick. The home in which Jesus had found rest and fellowship was in deep trouble. Jesus was no longer in Judea. In haste, word was sent to Him of His friend's illness. But He did not come.

Why does He delay? Such is the heart-cry of thousands today who call on Him in their hour of trouble. The purposes of God we cannot fully understand. We need only to trust Him and abide His time.

Notice that His failure to respond at once to the message of Lazarus' sisters did not mean that He had deserted them (John 11:4-6). Nor did it mean that He had denied them His help (v. 7).

Above all, note that He came. He always does. Jesus has never failed any child of His. The time and the manner of His answer to our prayers may not conform to our opinion of what should have been done; but let us remember that we know only in part. He knows all. Let us trust Him. Job, in his darkest hour, said: "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him" (Job 13:15).

The steps from sorrow to victorious joy in this story are three in number.

I. Death and Tears (vv. 32-35)

By the time Jesus came, Lazarus was dead and his family and friends could only weep as they said: "If thou hadst been here—" Try as we may to temper its cruel blow, the fact remains that death is the enemy of man. It came into the world as the result of sin (Rom. 5:12), and only in Christ is it "swallowed up in victory" (1 Cor. 15:54). Until the glorious day of Christ's returning, when the redemption of the body will be complete (Rom. 8:23), death will continue to bring sorrow to the heart and tears to the eyes.

But let us not fail to notice that as the friends of Jesus, we do not sorrow alone. "Jesus wept" (v. 35) with Martha and Mary. We know that He weeps with us in our trying hour. He is the "friend that sticketh closer than a brother." He is the one who gives grace to meet the deepest sorrow, and to bear it with grace because of His tender fellowship.

II. Faith and Hope (vv. 38-40)

"If thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God," said Jesus to Martha. She must look beyond the evident fact of the deadness of her brother and see God's glory in his resurrection. Thus faith assures us that those who believe in Christ have more than the comfort of His sympathizing presence—they have a sure hope (read 1 Thess. 4:14-18).

Sorrow and unbelief would becloud our faith and thus rob us of our hope. Martha needed to have her faith stimulated by the gracious words of the Lord; and then she triumphantly put her hope in Him, the Christ of God. "Once we recognize Him as God, we have no hesitation in believing in His miraculous power."

III. Christ and Resurrection (vv. 41-44)

Majestic and authoritative are the words of Christ. "I am the resurrection and the life" (v. 25). He it was who gave life, for was He not "in the beginning with God"? And is it not said of Him, that "all things were made by him" (John 1:2, 3)? Paul tells us that "by him all things consist" (Col. 1:17). He is the only one who could say: "I lay down my life. . . I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it up again" (John 10:17, 18).

So it can rightly be said that if we have Christ we have everything—both in this world and in the world to come. But if we do not have Christ, we have nothing; we are without God and without hope. "He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live" (v. 25) is the promise of Christ to us. Let us believe it!

The resurrection power of Christ is at work in the world today raising the spiritually dead to newness of life in Him. May we see many such a Lazarus called forth—loosed from the grave clothes of sin and set free.

Strange Gadgets Solve Fantastic Problems of War

New Tools of Victory Are Being Developed by
U. S. Scientists.

CHICAGO. — American ingenuity and inventive genius have invaded the realm of the fantastic to provide the tools of this most fantastic of all wars.

Laying upon materials which at first glance seem far removed from the herculean demands of modern warfare and harnessing forces of nature which, a decade ago, man thought uncontrollable, the nation's scientists are developing new tools of victory.

One of the most amazing of these new developments is the use of golden plate glass in sub-stratosphere bombers. In pre-war times a deluxe item for interior decoration and mirrors, this glass—the color of gold—now serves as a sunburn protective for pilots when on duty in the sub-stratosphere. Equally amazing is the use of another type of glass, a bullet resistant transparent armor, for battleships of the sky. Tests have proved that this glass will resist the impact of high caliber machine gun bullets. It offers the pilot protection combined with vital visibility.

Like Child's Toy.

A new type of midge boat, which resembles a child's toy and is mounted on pontoons similar to those of a sea plane, is being used to fight submarines. Using motive power supplied by airplane prop and engine, these boats cannot be heard by detectors of enemy subs because they have no propeller beating in the water.

Designed to save the lives of sailors and members of the merchant marine when ships are torpedoed at sea, an overall life-saving suit can be slipped over a sailor's regular uniform and has "built-in" devices to attract rescuers. These include a flashlight, whistle, yellow hood and yellow palm gloves. The suit has weighted shoes that keep the wearer upright in the water.

Combat vehicles now have a new method of communicating without interference as the result of invention of a two-way radio device which opens up hundreds of new short wave bands, previously untapped.

Eliminating many accidents which previously cost the lives of pilots and the loss of planes, an X-ray trailer laboratory can produce a complete diagnosis of any invisible structural weakness in a plane 15 minutes after it has landed. Thus, it is possible to determine accurately whether the plane is fit for further duty or must be laid up for repairs.

Although not the most comfortable seat in the world, a revolving chamber beneath the plane, known to pilots as a "belly bubble," provides an effective firing position on the underside of a Flying Fortress. Curled up inside, the gunner frequently is somersaulting as he operates the gun beneath his feet.

Finally, there is the new electronic instrument, which is capable of recording temperature and pressure changes at the rate of 144 readings every three or four minutes. This "gadget" obtains data on engine and plane performance previously beyond the range of manual recording.

Flier Who Braved Bombs,

Shells Is Victim of Dog

CHUNGKING, CHINA. — Lieut. Vernon L. Scott of Hazel, S. D., rode safely through a flurry of bullets that peppered his transport plane over India, but he became a casualty soon after reaching China—a dog at the officers' mess bit his leg.

Scott and Lieut. Joe Walker of Doyline, La., took off from a northeast Indian airport Sunday while it was being bombed by the Japanese. Two Zero fighters chased them 30 miles. One cannon shell punctured the left auxiliary gasoline tank and 10 machine-gun bullets holed the plane.

"In shaking off the Japs we made so much speed over treetops and mountain slopes that even the manufacturers of that transport would be surprised," said Lieutenant Walker.

3 Hunters Fire, Scare

The Life Out of Goose

HOUSTON, TEXAS. — Johnny Johnson, Buster Shely and Dr. Alton Dunkerley went hunting. A lone goose honked over. All three fired. Down dropped the goose. All three claimed him.

A quick huddle brought the decision that Dr. Dunkerley should perform an autopsy to determine the killer.

His verdict: The goose died of hypertension, arterio sclerosis, or plain heart trouble.

He didn't find a shot.

Former Senator Gets Old

Pistol, Kills Himself

LOS ANGELES. — Edward Bohlinger, 67, received a trunk from his home in Palagonia, Ariz., carrying newspaper clippings and other reminders of his years of service as an Arizona state senator.

He had been stricken with heart disease last April 7. He retired and came here to live with his sisters, Emma and Josephine Bohlinger.

In the trunk was a frontier model revolver. The sisters heard a shot and called police. Detectives listed his death as a suicide.

Mrs. Thelma Jedele and son, Norman, of Antioch, were recent dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Neumann.

Prospects for Eggs

A new record in egg production is expected to be set in 1943. Since feed and egg prices seem likely to continue favorable to feeding layers, experts believe there will be 8 to 8 per cent more layers on farms the first of 1943 than a year earlier. Despite the record egg production, it is believed that egg prices will be even higher next year than in 1942.

Headlight Glare

Eyes of everyone are affected by glare of bright headlights and all motorists should drive cautiously when facing such bright lights. However, many drivers are almost blinded by bright lights. Their eyes recover very slowly. Drivers should remember that glare blindness increases with age, thereby increasing the hazards of night driving. Black eyes, in general, are less affected by headlight glare than are light eyes.

Down the ways goes a new Tank Landing Ship to join America's Navy. Following modern mass-production methods, this vessel was constructed in sections which were electrically welded together at the launching ways.

Ship Building and Electric Power in Northern Illinois

In time of war, as in peace, electricity is the power of industrial activity, the force that speeds production. Here, in this great center of war production, every hour of the day electric power is helping to build ships, tanks, planes and hundreds of other implements essential to victory on the land, on the sea and in the air.

Day and night, it is our responsibility to supply electric power for war production in this area. And to this task we are devoting the skill and efficiency attained through years of experience.

As another ship building plant in the Chicago area a Naval Patrol Vessel is built in sections which are fitted and welded together.

Electric arc welding speeds the fabricating of sub-assemblies as well as the joining of large component sections of Patrol Vessels.

Sequoits Lose Final Game to Hebron

(By Tom Brett and Clare Sieben)
The last home game of the season, before the tournament games, was played last Friday night, Feb. 19, here at Antioch. The opposing team was Hebron. It was a fast moving and exciting game.

At the end of the first half Hebron had a seven point lead over our team. The boys played hard, but they found it even harder to stop Judson, the center on Hebron's team. Antioch's high scorer was Dale Barnstable, a forward, with twelve points to his credit, only five points less than Judson, Hebron's high scorer.

The Hebron team found Barnstable hard to stop, too, but not quite hard enough, for at the end of the game Hebron still held their lead over Antioch. The final score was 34 to 26.

The loss of this game should not be taken too badly, as Hebron's record this year has been exceedingly high.

Home Economics Class Starts Red Cross Work

(By Frank Kennedy)

The Home Economics class of Antioch Township High School has begun to work for the Red Cross. During the past few weeks the students have been knitting slippers and afghans. The work is being carried on under the able supervision of Miss Dixon, who is the adviser for the Home Economics class.

According to Miss Dixon the major part of this work is being done by the sophomores.

Sequoits Have New Basketball Suits

(By Tom Brett)

New white suits were purchased for the boys' basketball team. They were paid for by donations from the "A club" and the "Pep club" and by money raised through the sale of hot dogs, candy, and pop at games. Ten suits were bought. Their number run from 20 to 29. These new suits will give Antioch a colored combination for tournament play and the white suits needed for home games.

A Sense of Humor

The late Oliver Herford, long America's leading humorist, despised gossip and all their clan. One evening when I was present at a dinner where he was seated next to a certain lady, I overheard her handing out a "spicy tidbit" which might much better have been left unsaid. Later, I asked Oliver what he had thought of his dinner companion. "Well," he drawled, "I must admit that she had a delightful sense of humor."—Charles Hanson Towne.

Navy Opens Pilot Training to High School Graduates

A $27,000 aviation education—free! That outstanding feature—together with the opportunity to serve our country as a member of America's top-flight fighting force—is the attraction which has high school seniors and graduates in all parts of this territory enthused about the Navy's new program that opens pilot training to seventeen-year-olds.

High school principals report to the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board at Chicago that many of the students in the June graduating class, plus a large number of youths already graduated, are asking about the new plan. And all their questions naturally wind up with inquiries about the training they will receive—which proves to be the clincher!

The Navy's pilot training course offers young Americans the world's finest aviation education. It includes instruction in flying varied types of planes, navigation, radio, gunnery and instrument flying, and before a cadet graduates he will become an all-around aviation expert. The entire course takes approximately fourteen months.

Training for cadets now starts with the three-month course at a Naval Flight Preparatory school, where the student receives an insight into ground school subjects, mathematics, physics and Naval essentials. This is followed by two months at a War Training School—formerly called CPT—which gives the cadet his first actual flying instruction, plus other aviation studies. And by the time he is ready to solo, he knows the latest type Navy planes, inside and out!

The popular Navy pre-flight course at Iowa City, Iowa, is next—and there for three months the future flier of the fleet receives an intensive physical conditioning program that fits him for the rigors of wartime flying. Classroom studies also are a part of this course. Later, the cadet goes to one of the country's greatest Naval Air Stations for a flight course that leads to graduation and the winning of the Navy Wings of Gold.

Throughout his entire training the cadet is paid $75 a month, in addition to room, board, uniforms and $10,000 insurance. On graduation he is commissioned as an Ensign and receives almost $300 monthly.

In order to be eligible for this training under the new Navy program, applicants must meet those qualifications: 1. Seventeen years of age; 2. Graduate from high school by June 30, 1943 or already have been graduated; 3. Rank scholastically in the upper half of graduating class; 4. Be recommended by high school principal; 5. Pass regular Naval aviation cadet examination.

150 New Volumes Added to Library

(By Ted Smith)

This past December one hundred and fifty new books, mostly fiction and more recent biographies, were purchased by the Antioch High School Library. Among the collection are many latest publications as well as the standard books which every high school student enjoys.

The books will be ready to be loaned to the students soon and will be catalogued by author and title in the files.

Some boys may be interested in the book, "Wings Over America," which is about aviation from start to finish and was written by Harry Bruno.

Another book for boys is Bert A. Shields' "Principles of Aircraft Engines," a technical book.

Serve Balance Meals in Cafeteria for 15c

(By Pat Ryan)

By using the surplus commodity foods that are distributed to schools by the government, Miss Dixon who is the head of the cafeteria, serves well-balanced, nutritious lunches to the students at a very low cost. The price of the regular plate luncheon is only fifteen cents while both salads and desserts are sold for a nickel each. White milk, one of the best sellers, costs only one cent a bottle. Thanks to this low price, about 130 bottles more are sold each day.

Choose Cheer Leaders For Cage Tournament

(By Clare Sieben)

A joint meeting of the Pep and A clubs was held last week to select the two cheer leaders who were to represent Antioch at the tournament. A. T. H. S. has seven cheer leaders: Mabel Lou Hunter, Dottie Wilton, Clare Sieben, Louise Elms, Carol Waters, Edna Pedersen, and Shirley Higgins. Since only two could be official representatives, the choice was difficult, but it was made and Shirley Higgins and Carol Waters were elected.

Methodists Answer War Need In Three-Fold Dedication

Self

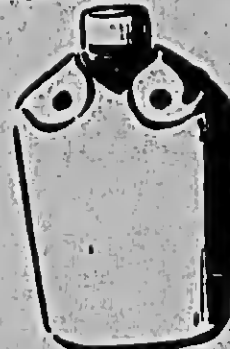

Service

Substance

Across the nation in 42,000 Methodist churches during the Week of Dedication, February 26 to March 7, eight million members of the denomination will be called by their bishops and pastors to rededication of "self, service and substance." Spiritual emphasis will be climaxed in a sacrificial offering on Sunday, March 7, which will be used to meet emergency war needs of providing Christian ministry or financial aid to men of the armed forces, "uprooted families" in industrial defense areas, refugees in war-torn countries, evacuated foreign missionaries, churches and schools in Latin America, and other projects created by wartime conditions.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

One of the most essential articles of equipment for our soldiers is his canteen. In equatorial countries and in other warm climates they are particularly important to the welfare of our fighting men.

The canteen, now being largely manufactured of plastics, costs about 42 cents. The canvas cover, about 41 cents or 44 cents in all. Your purchases of War Bonds, or People's Bonds, will buy many of these for our men in the Solomon Islands or in Africa where they are badly needed. Buy War Bonds every pay day—at least ten percent of your income—through a Payroll Savings plan. U. S. Treasury Department

Double Trouble
The mess hall at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, had just been cleaned and Sgt. Frank Rocelle detailed Private Ralph Caldwell to keep all men out. He didn't want the floor tracked up before inspection. A few minutes later when the sergeant walked into the barracks he saw stretched out on a bunk and sound asleep one Private Caldwell. That was more than the sergeant could stand. Insulted, he called it, as the private stood and listened. Then Private Caldwell displayed his identification tags. The sleeping soldier was Private Harry Caldwell, twin brother of Ralph.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Department of Agriculture Forecasts Tightened Civilian Rationing Orders; Losses Alter Nazi Military Strategy; Lend-Lease Reaches Ten Billion Yearly

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Weary from siege and bitter fighting and wasted away from starvation, these are some of the Japanese soldiers captured by U. S. army forces when they overcame resistance on Guadalcanal. They have been marched down to the beach and are waiting for a barge which will transport them to a prison camp for the duration.

FOOD OUTLOOK: And Rationing

As the American housewife began to learn the details of the new point rationing system the department of agriculture took a look around at the 1943 food supply and forecast an extension of rationing which might even reduce dinner table loads to depression era levels.

Tip off on the situation came after a house appropriations subcommittee slapped its disapproval on the administration's food production subsidy program by rejecting to approve a request for $100,000,000 for incentive payments to growers of potatoes, beans, sorghum, flax and certain vegetables.

Farm bloc members of congress are against the incentive payments because they have their own plan for raising the farmer's income—by including farm labor costs in the parity formula.

After the subcommittee's action, Secretary Wickard called on farmers to ignore the action and go ahead with their production plans anyway. The department of agriculture pointed out that the most severe pinch on many foods is yet to come but careful rationing and intelligent use of food supplies will help.

FORECAST: Of Battle for Africa

The first big armament battle of the severe nature of the fighting which lies ahead of the Allies before the Axis can be cleared out of that front.

Allied communiques told of heavy fighting in which German tanks swept into the Allied forward base at Gafsa, 75 miles west of the Gulf of Gabes, in the southernmost part of the Tunisian line.

American troops, which had been holding the place, were understood to have retired before the German advance and to have withdrawn according to plan. The retirement from Gafsa was not completely unexpected and was expected to strengthen the Allied line in the districts where strength has been too thinly spread for safety.

However, better news came when American tank combat teams smashed back at Marshal Rommel's experienced armored troops and forced the Nazis back six miles in the Faid area of central Tunisia. This was the biggest armament battle of the North African front, and conducted under an umbrella of American fighter planes.

SOUTH PACIFIC: Score: 15-2

The early-February rumors of a major fleet engagement in the Solomon Islands turned out to be no more than rumors—but only because the Jap fleet decided against it.

A navy communique announced that 15 Japanese ships, including 12 destroyers, were sunk or damaged, and two American warships were lost in a week of furious fighting in the area—but the fighting was all of air attacks on surface vessels. There were no reported incidents of warship battling against warship. Reports indicated that the Jap fleet preferred not to risk another large-scale naval battle.

ALTERATIONS: In Nazi Strategy

There were definite signs in Berlin that German military strategy with respect to the war in Russia was undergoing some rather vital alterations. Some sources indicated that Hitler himself was no longer making the important strategic decisions. Rather, said these reports, the German general staff had taken over.

If true, there was reason aplenty for the change. For now the Russians have regained virtually all of the territory they lost to the Nazis when the latter began their 1942 spring offensive. Spring, summer and fall last year had seen the Russians fall back from a line running roughly from Leningrad down through Kursk, Kharkov and Rostov to as far eastward as Stalingrad on the banks of the river Volga. And almost to the Caspian sea.

All this was now lost. For the Russians had in turn encircled the Nazi troops before Stalingrad and then retaken that city; the siege of Leningrad was lifted; Kursk fell, then Rostov and last to be retaken was the anchor city of the German lines—Kharkov. Most experts predicted that the German generals had convinced the political leaders that a retreat to the Dnieper river was in order. Here, they reasoned, it would be simpler to stop the Russians. Moscow sources could not agree. The Red army fought on.

MEDITERRANEAN: Ship Losses Small

Adm. Andrew B. Cunningham, commander in chief of the Allied Mediterranean naval forces, has announced that American and British shipping losses had been less than 2 per cent in bringing 780 ships totaling 6,500,000 tons to North Africa since November 8. At the same time the admiral reported the Germans and Italians in January lost nearly one-third of their ships in trying to supply their Tunisian forces.

When asked if the Axis could mobilize enough ships to get their forces out of North Africa, Admiral Cunningham said: "Yes, but I wouldn't like to say what would happen to them."

LEND-LEASE: Still Growing

The United States is spending at the rate of $10,000,000,000 annually to supply its Allies with food, implements of war and necessary industrial products, Edward R. Stettinius Jr., lend-lease administrator, told a senate appropriations subcommittee.

Stettinius' lend-lease table showed that $6,823,000,000 worth of material had been sent to Great Britain and its territories while only $160,000,000 worth was sent to China.

The 1943 requirements of the various lend-lease countries have been submitted, he said. "On the basis of our best present estimate . . . 1943 requirements for food will approximately double 1942 requirements." (Food requirements up to January 31 totaled $1,115,000,000.) It is expected that lend-lease requirements for other materials will exceed those for 1942.

FINLAND: Ryti Again

The attention of three strong nations—the United States, Russia and Germany—centered on Finland when that small nation re-elected Risto Ryti president, thus extending his tenure in office to March 1, 1943.

Germany hailed Ryti's re-election as a "plebiscite of the people" approving Finland's foreign policy. Transoceanic News Agency reporting from Helsinki said: "This election was a demonstration for Ryti and his foreign policy, and thus against the Anglo-American war of nerves."

America's attention was drawn a short time after the balloting by the college of electors when the dominant Social Democratic party council in a manifesto urged friendlier relations between Finland and the United States. It was hoped in many sources that relations between the two nations, troubled for some time, might be smoothed.

Russia looked with sardonic eye upon the Finnish press which emphasized that Finland was independent of Germany. One newspaper noted that "Finland is fighting a purely defensive war. Our alliance with Germany is purely accidental."

Peace Proposal?

Authoritative reports that the Finnish government has requested Sweden to sound out London and Washington on the prospect of a separate peace between Finland and Russia have been received by the Allied governments.

Finland's conditions for peace stipulated Finnish independence, a frontier compatible with Finnish honor and interests, and that the United States and Sweden should guarantee that independence and territorial integrity.

Although Britain is at war with Finland, it was natural that the Finns' separation from the Axis would be welcomed. The view prevailed in London that Finland should enter into discussions direct with Russia.

WPB SHAKEUP: And More Rumors

When Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, dismissed Ferdinand Eberstadt, as vice chairman of the WPB, informed observers immediately forecast a widening of the already gaping breach between the WPB and the army and navy.

Eberstadt, New York investment banker and chairman of the army and navy munitions board before he came to WPB, has been looked upon as the top authoritative liaison in co-ordinating military and civilian economy programs. Eberstadt's duties were transferred to Charles E. Wilson, WPB vice chairman.

The move was thought in Washington quarters to foreshadow more important changes in the WPB structure. With Eberstadt's dismissal came rumors that Nelson's tenure of office was strictly limited. As the rumors spread, Bernard M. Baruch, 72-year-old chief of the War Industries board of World War I, was the most prominently mentioned as Nelson's successor.

FIRST CROP: Of Natural Rubber

Harvesting of the first natural rubber to be produced in the United States was announced by the department of agriculture less than a year after the nation's guayule rubber program was begun.

The harvest, in the Salinas valley of California, amounted to about 600 tons of raw rubber. It was grown on 550 acres. The source was a small desert shrub, which must be planted annually.

The department of agriculture report disclosed that the army made an investigation 13 years ago into the possibilities of the guayule plant as a rubber resource in the event of war. One of the two officers making the report was Maj. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now a general and commander in chief in the North African theater of war.

The Office of Price Administration is committed to a policy of firm price control and, contrary to reports, does not intend to permit a gradual increase in the cost of living.

That was the statement of Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown, who asserted that it was the intent of congress under the emergency price control act to hold prices to the general level of September 15,

LAKE VILLA

Lake Villa Community Church Methodist—W. MacArthur, Pastor Sunday School—10 A. M. Worship Service—11 A. M.

The Official Board of the church will hold another of its popular social evenings at the Village hall Friday of this week. Games, refreshments and a good time, come.

Eugene Anderson, 3rd class petty officer in Coast Guards, stationed at Philadelphia, and his wife, the former Betty Jane Keimach, spent the past week with the latter's parents here and relatives in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Meyer who have been in Milwaukee for several weeks, returned to their home here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fish visited the Will Fish family near Wauconda last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kasten entertained a number of friends at a neighborhood party at their home south of town on Route 21 last Saturday evening.

Charles Peterson has purchased the property he formerly occupied as grocery and market, from Mr. Taylor of Waukegan and expects to open the store very soon. It will be remembered that the contents of the store and the interior were damaged by fire early in December.

The surgical dressing unit of Red Cross workers sent in their first consignment of dressings last Friday and up to that time had completed 6,875 dressings, which was very good considering the number of workers. Four ladies have won large red crosses for 70 hours of work, namely Mrs. Marz, Mrs. Tiede, Mrs. Weber and Mrs. Mesler, and others will have theirs soon. It is hoped that with better weather conditions more women may be able to come and help with these dressings, as the quota is far from being met.

Mrs. Earl Tucker entertained the Birthday club at her home last Tuesday afternoon and the ladies enjoyed pinocle after the pot luck dinner.

Mrs. Frank Hamlin spent last week with relatives in Chicago and Mr. Hamlin was in Chicago on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bell are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at St. Theresa hospital last week, and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Nelson, formerly of Lake Villa, are also parents of a son born Sunday. They are now residents of Antioch.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller and children of Chicago visited their father, Carl Miller, here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Beiser, nee Lillian Atwell, of Waukegan were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Atwell, who celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barnstable and children of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnstable and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lars Steffenburg of Antioch, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Steffenburg of Libertyville were callers at the Sidney Barnstable home last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Barnstable are having an auction sale Thursday and expect to move to the Hansen house next to the Swanson garage.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

RETREAT: Usually reliable reports from Turkey declare that the Nazis are fortifying the Carpathian mountains in the northeastern extremity of former Czechoslovakia. Other reports say that the Germans have constructed a series of defense lines in the eastern section of Poland. All of which would indicate that the Nazis are preparing for a broad retreat into western Europe.

ALEUTIANS: Weather stations off Siberia allow Jap air and naval units to follow fog and storm eastward to the Aleutians for military action. The elements which move eastward in this region, give the Japs perfect cover.

INDIA: Prominent Hindu business men joined in the plea to the Indian government to release Mohandas Gandhi.

Prison Break Is Thwarted by Use Of Tuning Fork

Substitute Bars Are Detected By Application of Warden's Hobby.

STATEVILLE, ILL.—Three convicts at the penitentiary here were sent to solitary confinement because Warden Joseph E. Ragen believes in tuning forks. One night his tuning fork failed to get a ring when used on the bars of the window of the cell of Frank Goring, William Burke, and Robert Pond. The reason there was no ring was because the bars were of wood.

The convicts had laboriously sawed through the window bars, and had snapped them off. Pieces of wood were fashioned to take the places of the removed steel and the wood was painted so that on casual inspection the substitution could not be detected. But the tuning fork did.

Working Two Months. Warden Ragen, who recently returned to the management of the prison where he had become recognized as one of the ablest men engaged in prison work, said the convicts had been working toward an escape for at least two months.

"They planned to climb down the outside of the prison on a foggy day or night," Ragen said, "and to go to the furniture factory where they would nail together an improvised ladder which would enable them to scale the wall. Sunday night might have been their night but we were a few moves ahead of them."

"Every bar in the Stateville and Joliet prison is being tested. If any others have been cut we will discover them. The entire prison is undergoing a shakedown today. A shakedown means that every inch of the prison is searched, mattresses and pillows are opened and examined, and every possible hiding place inspected. Already we have found many knives."

The three occupants of the cell had used emery dust and a piece of steel to cut the bars, it was explained.

Garing and Burke were sentenced in Cook county to life imprisonment as habitual criminals. Pond was sentenced in 1938 to one year to life from McLean county, and the parole board had ruled that he was to serve until 1940 after which he was to be turned over to the federal government to serve a 10-year sentence for a postoffice robbery.

Garing had been paroled several times on previous sentences, but each time returned to his old trade as a robber. Burke was also a repeater.

Blind Woman Now Vital Cog in U. S. War Effort

MOBILE, ALA.—A 35-year-old life-long blind woman, Miss Eileen Sutton, is working as one of the vital cogs of the United States' huge war machine—a typist at Brookley Field's Navco station unit.

Taking advantage of an opportunity to attend the Tennessee School for the Blind at Nashville, Miss Sutton, after finishing her studies, took a commercial course, during which she was taught typing and dictaphone work.

After completing the commercial course, the determined little lady found employment with the Tennessee Valley authority, doing dictaphone and typing work, building herself an excellent record at this work.

Miss Sutton began her work for Brookley at the Navco signal station in August. Part of her job is to transcribe incoming long distance telephone calls which are recorded on a dictaphone. In her spare time she takes letters.

Mascot Terrier Faints

During Raid on Japs

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA.

A terrier pup named Pluto, mascot of a Flying Fortress squadron, went on his first combat mission, complete even to oxygen mask.

Pluto's Fortress, piloted by Lieut. Jim Murphy, Roundup, Mont., attacked the Japanese Buin-Falsi naval anchorage in the northern Solomons.

When the plane was making a run through anti-aircraft fire the pup passed out from excitement. He also damaged the charts of Bombardier Lieut. M. V. Rappaport, Montgomery, Ala.

Bears, Deer on Rampage

During Coast Blackouts

ILWACO, WASH.—Wildlife is making it tough for residents of this little sea coast town, now under strict war blackout. Bears wander around the outskirts of the town munching on apples and scaring late-prowling residents. Deer walk the main streets eating gardens and flowers indiscriminately. The worst thing, however, is the presence of skunks. They wandered into the town's only picture theater and forced it to close down several days.

Employee Slept on the Job; So to Jail He Went

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—Enoch Plier, 42, couldn't resist the temptation to curl up and go to sleep. As a result, an employee who opened a local laundry for business early in the morning found Plier in profound slumber. He also found the door jammed and the safe tampered with. Still yawning, Plier was arrested for burglary.

News of the Boys...

Antioch News to me. I sure do enjoy it, for it is almost like being home when I read it. The columns for the boys in the armed forces is my favorite part—it helps me to keep track of where my friends are. Unfortunately I have received but few copies since my departure from the states. . . . Hurray for the Antioch Sequoias. Thanks to Walter Baethke and Russ Barthel for Christmas cards. Due to censorship restrictions the name of Rudy's outfit can not be given, but he may be addressed—*3639875, A. P. O. 762, care Postmaster, New York City. —V—

American Legion:
Received the Antioch paper and it was a genuine pleasure to read the local news, especially news of the boys in service. Keep that up.

Just finished basic Military training yesterday and I have biked 150 miles in four weeks and gained 16 lbs. while doing it. Took everything they had to offer as it came. Find on the average a lot of young fellows can't take it—just too lazy. I think they just want to gold brick and do things easy. After being out of the navy since 1921, I took a hand at drilling men here during basic, did O. K. They wanted me as a cadre man (they stay and teach recruits), but I expect to go to a Radar school in Florida soon. Will send new address when I go as I want that paper. Saves lots of writing. Think you fellows are doing a fine thing for us, and I for one appreciate it very much.

Corporal Norman Alwardt may now be addressed at Casual Det. 5, Station Camp, Camp Livingston, La. . . . Cpl. Alwardt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Alwardt of Lake Villa and he worked at Frank Slavin's garage before going in the army. When he was home on furlough in December he was married to Miss Lorraine Cragg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cragg of Ingleside. The wedding occurred on Dec. 6. The bride was formerly employed in the Ford garage. She is now working in Chicago.

Addressed to Otto S. Klass from Bob Bolton:
Dear Otto:

I was sure glad to get the Antioch News this week. This is the first paper I have seen since I have been in the service.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Antioch American Legion for sending me the home town paper.

It takes my mind off other things and makes me feel good to read all the local news that happens while I am away. It also answers lots of questions that I don't have to write home and have answered. This camp is not close to town and papers are very scarce.

From Warren Sheehan:
Dear Sirs:

I have been receiving your newspaper and am very glad to get the news from home.

I enjoy Navy life very well and have made a great many friends here. This is a new camp and everything is the best that can be had.

My mailing address has been changed to Batt. 84, Co. A, Plat. 4, Davisville, Rhode Island.

A V-Mail letter from George W. Turner, postmarked New York, Feb. 16th, to the American Legion post of Antioch says:

I received your most appreciated gift. I wish to thank the Antioch Legion and all the folks who helped. I hardly know what to say. I am much of a stranger in Antioch, though before my folks moved to Antioch we used to visit the lakes quite often. I hope to settle in Antioch after the war. I look forward to meeting and making friends. I am in the hospital recovering from malaria, but I am feeling fine. Well, I will close now, wishing everyone in the town the best of luck and health. Sincerely,
Pvt. Geo. W. Turner

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Washing machines and other household appliances are not available today. Manufacturers have converted their plants to war work. If you save today, however, by buying War Bonds, this money saved will start these factories rolling and put millions of Americans to work after the war is won.

Join the payroll Savings plan at your office or factory. Save a definite amount every payday, ten percent or more of your pay check. Your pay check today buys a payday for tomorrow and gets you $4 back for every $3 you invest. U. S. Treasury Department
